250 PROJECT ASSESSMENTS

The Roadway Predesign Section invites the Traffic Engineering Group to attend field reviews to discuss the scope of upcoming roadway construction projects. Attendance at the field reviews is needed for safety-related improvements to be added to the project scope. After the field review, the Roadway Predesign Section distributes a Project Assessment describing the project scope, budget, and schedule.

Prior to attending a Predesign field review, the 5-year accident history for the project area should be reviewed. If any safety improvements related to the accident history are justified, the improvements should be recommended at the field review before the project scope is defined.
